Why Do You Need The College Program?

College coaches face a problem: Improving their teams' putting performance by 4 shots every tournament.

Why 4 shots? It's each player finding just one shot each tournament. The easiest place to find that shot is on the green.

But how?

The College Program begins with a remote education program for coaches to learn reliable speed and green reading strategies. That is followed by a series of tests to collect data for each player to identify patterns, score their results, and target areas for improvement.

Rather than repeat drills hoping for statistical improvement, customized practice plans and round tracking will measure each players' performance and promote transference.

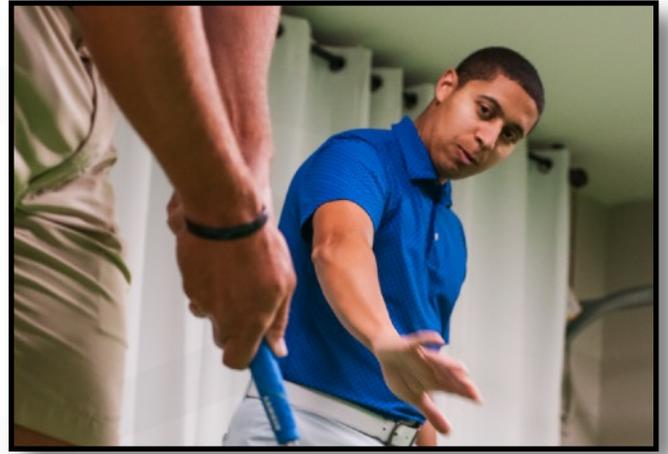

The College Program is the best opportunity to build a meaningful putting culture that cultivates long term growth and generates wins.

Live Training

The Platinum Coaching Program includes a chance for coaches to travel to The Garage, Preston's state of the art home studio in Orlando, FL for two days of hands on training.

This includes use of technology, essential mechanics for training players, and a full day session outdoors to evaluate lag putting and green reading strategies.

Let's Talk Tech!

I use the world's number #1 adjustable indoor putting green from Zen Green Stage. This fully automated surface is controlled by tablet and allows users can recreate any slope putt including compound and double breaking putts.

My light projection is powered by Quintic Overhead Putt Tracker to help players see and understand how and why a ball breaks. It's an essential tool for helping players match speed and line. Schedule your free consult to learn about both great technologies!

Meet The Coach, Preston Combs

After graduating college, Preston first entered the golf industry as a Class A PGA Professional and studied under some of the game's top instructors. He is the coach to winners on the PGA, LPGA, and Korn Ferry Tours.

His main area of expertise in putting allows him to solve a problem college coaches face with every team: an imbalance between technology, data, and skill development.

A strong list of successful programs including 4 Top 20 NCAA Division I programs and multiple Top 10 players demonstrates his ability to manage this triad and help teams unlock peak performance.

Most recently, Preston was selected for the 2025 Golf Digest Best Young Teachers list and their 2024 Best in State list.
